The Margaret Cribb Early Learning Centre is attached to the University of Queensland, St Lucia campus. The centre offers a relaxing and natural environment for children to learn and be creative. The centre is a completely new facility as the old building was destroyed due to flooding.

Taking this into account, it was important for the flooring to be durable and safe. "Karndean LooseLay vinyl flooring was nominated for teaching spaces and administration areas not only due to its warm natural look, but also because it is hardwearing, non-toxic, durable and easy to clean. The product is well suited for high traffic areas with rough wear and tear expected in the space," comments Design Worldwide Partnership associate design director, Lilian Arli.

"The design vision of Margaret Cribb Early Learning Centre was to reflect its Regio Emillia pedagogy to provide a natural environment as the third teacher for the children."

Amongst Karndean's extensive choice of natural ranges, Mountain Spotted Gum was selected. The subtle spotted appearance and large amounts of sapwood within the boards reflect the natural elements of this rich, Australian wood.

In addition to providing premium quality flooring that reproduces the look of natural materials, Karndean are dedicated to providing comprehensive support to our commercial flooring partners in specifying, supplying and fitting Karndean products.

Further, Lilian Arli comments, "It was not difficult to specify this product as it is supported by an excellent customer service to assist us during the design process as well as during construction. I highly recommend Karndean products and will not hesitate to use it again in my future projects."

Karndean LooseLay Longboard features the realistic and natural look of our design flooring ranges and provides the hardwearing, hygienic and safe qualities for children and staff.
